REDEFINING LOCAL STREET ART

Phoenix has over 80 individual street art murals from a variety of local artists and talents. Street art not only adds character to the cityscape but also redefines every parameter of the word "art" in its scale, medium, and presentation. In this exhibition, we will bring forward only a small section of the local street art that Phoenix has to offer in a hope to present these works as integral in local placemaking and as art installations in their own right.
